

I think it is a sad state of affairs when a controlling body wants to strip a worthwhile cause such as Air 1 or KLOVE of the ability to reach an audience that it has been reaching effectively for quite some time now. I have no problem with LPFM being made available in areas where nothing else is occupying the translators, but where they are being used currently, they should be allowed to continue being used.